“Ryan Amey Receives Prestigious Commercial Lines Producer of the Year Prize from The Insurance Alliance of Central Pennsylvania”

HARRISBURG, PA On November 5, 2009, The Insurance Alliance of Central Pennsylvania presented Ryan Amey of Sterner Insurance with its Commercial Lines Producer of the Year Prize in recognition of his outstanding achievement in its 2009 Accelerations Sales Contest.

In presenting the award to Ryan Amey, Jane Koppenheffer, President of The Insurance Alliance, commented:

The Insurance Alliance of Central Pennsylvania created the 2009 Accelerations Sales Contest in order to recognize the performance of its Commercial Lines producers. Fifty-four producers from eleven different Alliance member agencies participated in the contest.

The participants participated in educational and sales training meetings with the corporate and platinum sponsors of the contest. They also had the opportunity to build connections with other Alliance producers.

Ryan’s outstanding production is a reflection of his professionalism, personal motivation, and the support he receives from his agency.

The Insurance Alliance of Central Pennsylvania is a collective of 11 premier independent agencies located in the Central and greater Lehigh Valley regions of Pennsylvania. Through size, diversity and broad expertise, The Alliance offers on a regional level that which is normally found only with national brokers -- ranking in 2009 as the 51st largest independent property/casualty agency in the nation. Its long-term growth and profitability has enabled The Alliance to secure preferred relationships with the region and nation's top insurance companies. With over 250 employees, its greater resources provide the sophistication to serve any size client. The Alliance ended 2008 with over $226 Million in Property-Casualty premiums written.
